I. Raingarden Workshops

Kristine asked the CAC for their opinion regarding whether there should be a minimum number of people registered to hold a workshop. It was decided that we should have a minimum number of 8 registrants. There was discussion about recording the workshop for local cable. Sue and Cindy both have contacts and will work together on this idea. Cindy will also check with her local cable access about advertising the workshops. Mark said he will check with local banks to advertise the workshops on their scrolling signs.

II. Activities for Local Fairs

Kristy checked out some books from the library and one of them had many activities that could work. Kristine said she would collect supplies for some of the activities and have them at the next meeting. Kristy said we should talk to Tamarack Nature Center staff for their ideas and borrow some of their activities. It was suggested we find some information about how frogs are affected by pollution with pictures.

For maps, it was decided to have a large map of the VLAWMO watershed and another large one of the metro area watersheds. We could have people place colored dots on where they live. It was also decided to have a map of one lake in the area showing how water flows in and out of the particular water body. Mark offered to make one of the maps and Kristine will work on the others. We will show what we have produced at the April 2 meeting.

III. Website Update – Kristine asked if it would be okay to list the member of the CAC on the website. No contact information would be posted. All agreed to this.
